Become a Sponsor of the 2018 California Co-op Conference in San Diego!

The California Co-op Conference is the only California conference that brings together co-ops of different types to share and learn together.

The conference offers education opportunities for existing cooperatives and for those interested in learning how this democratic business model is used to promote local sustainability and economic development, equity, and economic alternatives to “business as usual.”

- Make your presence known as an innovative leader and a supporter of cooperative enterprise!
- Demonstrate your support of cooperatives, economic development, and community wealth creation!
- Network with and communicate directly with new clients in an intimate, relaxed atmosphere!
- Impact your community by promoting a business model that naturally embodies triple bottom line economics!
